Texas Panhandle Hit By Raging Tornado; 29 Deaths Reported

CANADIAN, Tex., April 9 (P)—A tornado cut a path of death and destruction tonight across the Texas Panhandle and northwestern Oklahoma.

Reports of deaths ranged as high as 29, and injuries in the hundreds, with no estimate received from Woodward, Okla., the largest town in the storm's sweep. An Oklahoma highway patrolman advised that about one-half of the town of 5426 was leveled.

Twenty persons were reported killed at Higgins, Tex., on the Oklahoma line and ambulance drivers said the business district there was burning. Ten bodies of unidentified victims from Higgins and other storm-struck communities were taken to a funeral home at Shattuck, Okla. The Shattuck hospital received 150 injured persons.

The village of Glazier, Tex., was razed by the storm, which swept northeastward along the Santa Fe railroad line from Amarillo to Woodward. Nine bodies of persons killed at Glazier were in a mortuary here. The Canadian hospital was filled to overflowing with injured. Emergency hospitals were set up in the Methodist church and a hotel.

At Shattuck, Okla., Mrs. Carl Mason, Red Cross official, said that 150 persons injured at Higgins and vicinity crowded the 50-room Shattuck hospital. Six physicians were treating the injured.

Ten nurses and four doctors were (Continued on Page Eleven)

'SNOOKIE' FUND OVERSUBSCRIBED

Donations to Aid Girl Stricken by Rare Disease Reach Total of $3300

The fund to save the life of four-year-old Joanne Stranick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Stranick of Gilbertsville, has been oversubscribed and now totals close to $3300, it was reported last night.

The donations have been collected by the Charles B. Yerger post 471, American Legion, Boyertown, which underwrote the fund to pay for expensive serum treatments, the last resort in saving the child's life. She is stricken with nephrosis, a rare kidney disease.

Because the cheerful little tot is nicknamed Snookie, the fund has been labeled the "Snookie Fund."

Joanne is in her fourth week of treatment with the serum, which costs $45 an injection, and is reported doing well by her physician, Dr. Herman F. Kotzen. Despite a recent setback, she is in St. Joseph's hospital, Reading.

He indicated that the treatments will have to continue for another four weeks. After that it will take a period of a year or more to determine whether or not the serum has proved successful.

He said Joanne's case was the fourth he knew of in the country which had been treated with the serum.

Shortly after the child embarked on the cure, the last resort tried by her doctors, the Legion post underwrote her expenses to insure prompt and regular injections of the costly serum. Since that time it has solicited funds from local residents who have swelled the fund to more than is needed.

Members of the committee from the Legion post will meet tomorrow night with Mr. and Mrs. Stranick to declare the final total of the fund collected.

Disposition of excess moneys will be determined at a later date.

Thousands Pass Henry Ford Bier; Funeral Today

DETROIT, April 9 (P)—The small and great, the young and the old, paid final tribute today to Henry Ford, the famed industrialist who died Monday night.

As thousands moved silently past his bier in Greenfield village, a quiet spot in the shadow of his great industrial capital, telegrams continued to pour in from across the nation.

They told, generally, the same message — that the world had lost

Firestone Tribute Here

In respect to Henry Ford, the flag over the Pottstown plant of the Firestone Tire and Rubber company will be flown at half staff today. Two minutes of silence, during which all plant operations will cease, will be observed from 2:30 to 2:32 p. m. The observance has been called because of Harvey Firestone's close friendship with Mr. Ford.

—a great teacher, a great inspiration and an ardent American."

In mid-afternoon Mrs. Henry Ford came to the bier to stand, weeping silently, for a brief moment and then return to her home.

It was in the home, about a mile and a half from where the casket stood today that Henry Ford died at 11:40 o'clock Monday night of a cerebral hemorrhage, with only Mrs. Ford and a member of the household staff at his bedside.

Tomorrow there will be another opportunity for public tribute to the memory of the man credited with a major share in changing the world's industrial and social habits.

Public funeral services will be held in big St. Paul's Episcopal cathedral on Woodward avenue in midtown Detroit, so familiar to Mr. Ford in the early 1890's when he was striving to perfect his first gasoline-propelled vehicle.

Ford plants will be stilling throughout the nation and world; the automobile industry generally will pause for a moment at the hour of the services and churches throughout the city will toll their bells.

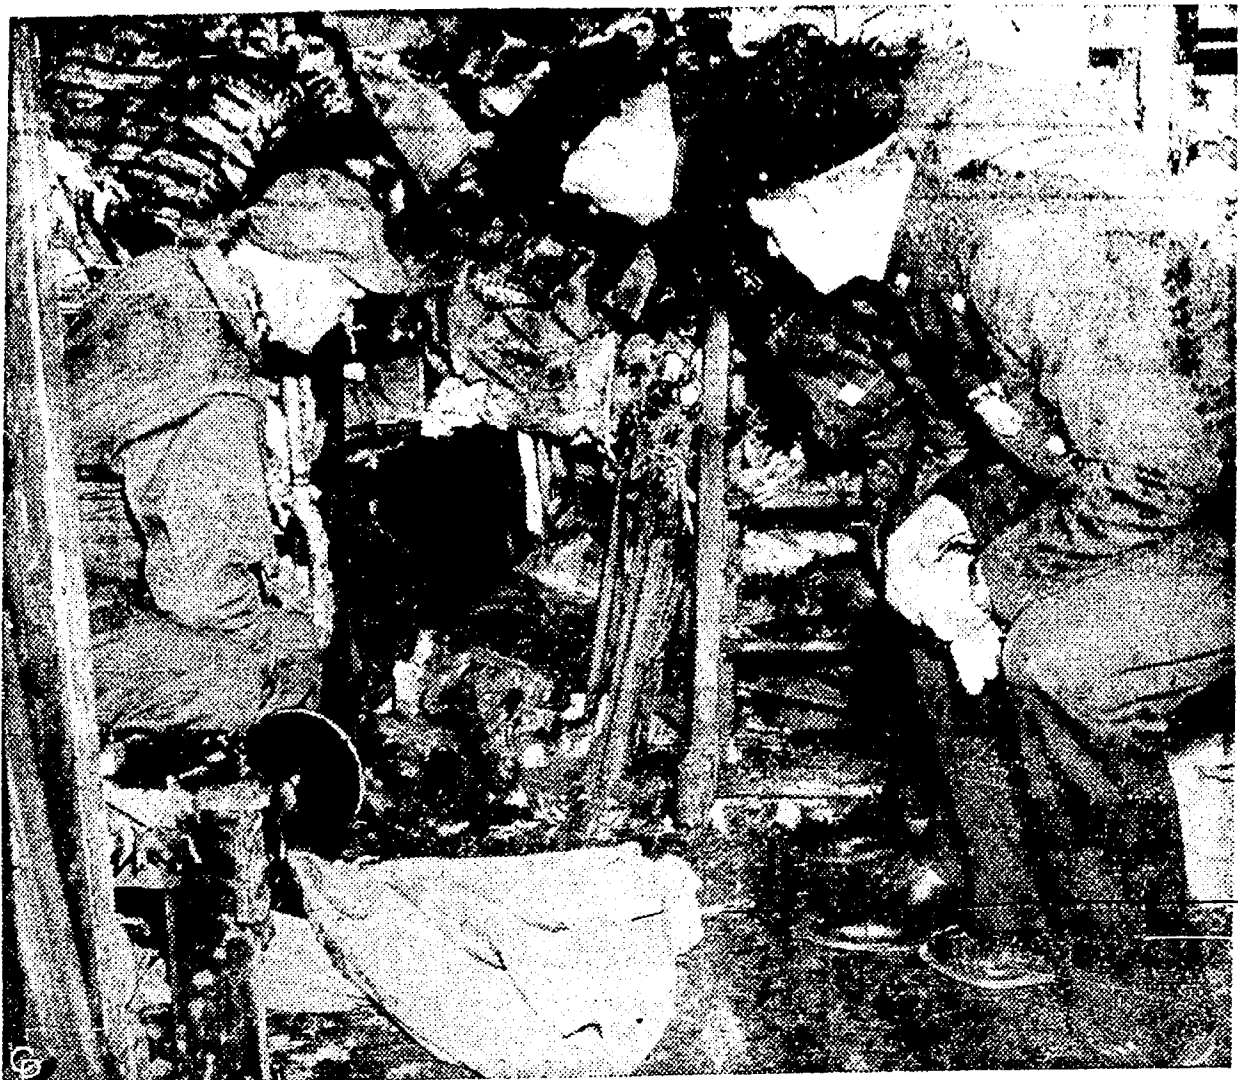

Husband Identifies Slain Woman's Body

MIAMI, Fla., April 9 (P)—A brunette whose nude and strangled body was found on a hotel bed here yesterday was identified today as Mrs. Evelyn Jean Downs, 22, formerly of Atlanta, Ga., and mother of a five-month-old son.

State Investigator I. Ray Mills said the woman was identified by her estranged husband, Frank Collie Downs, 47, a plastering contractor.

Downs said he and his wife parted a month ago.

Aged Recluse Victim of Own Booby Trap

In the rubble-strewn Collier home on Fifth avenue, New York, Detective Joe Whitmore (left) and two patrolmen look at the body of the missing Langley Collier after it had been discovered amid the debris cluttering the second floor. The recluse apparently was a victim of one of his own ingenious booby traps that caught him as he crawled through a tunnel running through piles of newspapers, boxes, furniture and junk in the house.

Walkout Expected By Ford Foremen

DETROIT, April 9 (P)—An estimated 3700 Ford Motor company foremen at the Rouge, Lincoln, Highland Park and other Detroit area plants today threatened strike action in 30 days by serving contract termination notice.

The notice, effective May 9, was sent to the company by Patrick Mullin, president of the Ford chapter of the Foreman's Association of America.

The Ford chapter recently appealed to national FAA headquarters at Detroit for permission to file a 30-day strike notice with the National Labor Relations board.

The national union's executive board will decide whether to grant permission at a meeting Sunday, FAA officers said.

Mullin charged that company top officials did not attend meetings the past week with union negotiators to discuss proposed contract amendments.

The company made no comment.

Chinese Deny Soviet Press Report U. S. Has Helped Nation Along Military Line

NANKING, April 9 (P)—China tonight officially denied that American aid since V-J Day had taken the form of military assistance or had infringed on her sovereignty.

A spokesman for the ministry of information, taking official cognizance of such charges, made in a Tass (Russian) news agency dispatch published in Moscow's Pravda Monday, replied heatedly:

"That article is so far from the truth that without undertaking to answer all of its misstatements, I deem it sufficient to point out some of the most glaring untruths."

"American actions during and since the war at no time infringed on Chinese sovereignty. The Pravda article makes a total distortion of the facts, which are openly spread on the record before all nations."

He specifically denied that the United States had—as Tass charged

Closed-Shop Test Ends in Failure

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 9 (P)—The Hamilton county Grand jury today dismissed charges of violation of Tennessee's anti-closed shop law against three persons who had sought a court test of the statute.

"No bills" were returned on the charges against Tom R. Cuthbert, editor of the Labor World, Paul Harte, president of Local 165 of the International Printing Pressmen's and Assistants union of North America (AFL), and Claude Shipley, union secretary.

The action blocked the test. Court attaches said no more action could be taken in the case.

Cuthbert was charged with denying employment to William Haley and G. T. Patterson because they were not union members. The union officials and Cuthbert—both as head of the world corporation and an individual—were charged with entering into a closed shop agreement.

The charges were brought by Haley and Patterson.

ACTOR'S MOTHER DIES

HOLLYWOOD, April 9 (P)—Mrs. Sarah Goldberg, 85, mother of film actor Edward G. Robinson, died in the Bronx, New York, today, friends of the actor here were informed. Robinson was at her bedside.

About 20 percent of all passenger automobiles registered in the United States are on farms.

—trained 40 Kuomintang (government party) division and 50,000 Kuomintang police troops; set up 27 military training schools; established "strong U. S. air bases near almost all large cities," or "separated the port of Tsingtao (a U. S. naval base) from China."

Earlier today, Peng Hsueh-Pei, minister of information, told a press conference:

"Whatever help the United States government has given in China has been given to the legitimate government and not to subversive, disloyal elements that are resorting to rebellion." He referred to the Chinese Communists.

The Chinese press reported meantime that negotiations for China to take over administration of Dairen from the Russians have borne "not the slightest fruits" because of "deliberate Soviet procrastination."

Moscow recently said it would turn over Dairen to the Chinese as soon as arrangements could be completed. The 1945 Sino-Soviet treaty declared Dairen an open port, to be administered by the Chinese government.

The press said, without confirmation, that the foreign minister, Wang Shih-Chieh, might join the negotiators at Pullantien, 35 miles north of Dairen, in an attempt to break the stalemate.

The ministry of information spokesman objected strenuously to the terms "Kuomintang divisions" and "Kuomintang police," asserting that the only political party in China with an army is the Chinese Communist.

Red Cross Drive Reported Success

The 1947 Red Cross campaign for funds is over the top in Boyertown and vicinity.

Actual money realized to date is $6962, according to Bevie J. Heimbach, who has handled the accounting end of the drive here.

Goal for Boyertown branch was $5800 and report: are still not complete, according to Mrs. Roy F. Scheeler, branch chairman.

Mrs. David F. Hottenstein, Bally solicitor, has reported about $500 not included in the $6962. Bally report is not yet in, it was announced.

While the drive has lagged in many places and the campaign dates have been extended, Boyertown branch has topped its goal by more than $1000 and more is expected shortly. A complete report is expected by next week.

$4500 Goal Sought In YMCA Drive To Finance Program

A goal of $4500 has been set for the 1947 YMCA Maintenance fund campaign, scheduled to start here April 22 and continue until Friday, May 2.

Personal solicitations will be made during the ten-day period by 30 or more team workers representing local Women's groups, Lions club, Rotary club, and YMCA advisory board.

Although slightly higher than the 1946 goal, the figure of $4500 is the actual amount raised in the past year's drive.

Any amount in excess of the goal for local work will be given to YMCA World Youth fund for Christian character-building among youth of war-torn lands, according to action taken by the local advisory board.

Maintenance funds campaign money given by people of this vicinity is used to provide adequate and competent leadership for youth activities, to operate the YMCA recreation rooms on East Philadelphia avenue, which are open to all boys and girls without charge; to provide supervision for young men's gymnasium classes; to provide an instructor for the annual free learn-to-swim campaign; to help finance district and state conferences which local young people attend.

Included among activities carried on by YMCA-sponsored Gra-Y, Jr. Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y, Jr. Tri-Hi-Y, and Gradale are youth nights, father-and-son and mother-and-daughter emphasis, life problems discussion course, industrial visits, and social events.

The work is guided by an advisory board of 14 members, consisting of Murrell D. McKinstry, president; George B. Swinehart, vice president; Mrs. Edith Grofe, secretary; Norman S. Gotwals, treasurer; Daniel B. Boyer, Mary B. Freed, Allen Helmich, Mrs. David Hottenstein, Samuel C. Hquck, the Rev. David Longacre, E. Lawrence Mory, the Rev. Harper L. ### Selfishness Retards Happiness, Class Told

The Rev. Clarence H. Rahn, Temple, told about 50 members of the Young People's Bible classes of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church that the enemy of happiness is selfishness, at the group's annual banquet in Boyer Towne inn last night.

He advised those present to practice the art of living and never to give up, no matter how discouraged. "Aim above the clouds and live generously," he said.

A piano duet was played by Arline and Doris Herbst. A play, "Winter Sunset," was presented by high school students under the direction of Winifred Y. Moyer. Participating were Anna Jane Stonaker, Philip West, Joan Moyer, and Richard Weiss.

The Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor of the church, was toastmaster for the dinner.

Two Are Baptized By Borough Pastors

Harvey Gordon Pennypacker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey R. Pennypacker, was baptized at the patronage of St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church by the Rev. David F. Longacre, pastor.

Janet W. Floyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent C. Floyd, was baptized in St. John's church by the Rev. Mr. Longacre, recently.

In 1908 the United States drilled new oil wells at the rate of 45 daily. In 1946 a new oil well was started every 23 minutes on the average.

Wallace Fears War If U. S. and Soviet Fail to Reach Accord

LONDON, April 9 (AP)—Henry A. Wallace declared today that "World War III is inevitable" unless the United States and Russia reach an understanding, and said Europeans were watching the two countries "getting ready for a death struggle."

Wallace criticized bitterly President Truman's proposed aid to Greece and Turkey. He expressed fear that a policy of loaning money "for the political purpose of stopping Russian expansion" would establish "during the next three months a pattern which if pursued might lead to war."

"People in Europe are watching these two great giants, America and Russia, getting ready for a death struggle," the former United States vice president told a new conference of more than 200 correspondents.

"We are not going to get anywhere by being anti-Russian or anti-Communist. The only thing we shall all get out of that will be eventual war and the loss of our own way of life in the process. That would be the world's greatest tragedy."

Wallace compared Russia and the United States to "two big dogs smelling each other."

"Once two such dogs have fully satisfied themselves, they usually don't fight," he said. "But right now they are still smelling each other, fore and aft."

The former vice president said the plan to aid Greece and Turkey was closely linked with the return of Gen. Charles De Gaulle to the French political scene, and had stirred to action certain forces in Spain and Argentina.

"I do not mean I think the American ambassador discussed the situation with Gen. De Gaulle before his recent statement (at Strasbourg)," Wallace said. "But knowledge that we obviously are setting out to make loans in the Near East for the political purpose of stopping Russian expansion caused countries like Franco Spain and Peron Argentina to say 'now we have the United States on the side we believe in.'"

"So also in France, undoubtedly, certain forces there believe that now the United States is strengthening their hand."

To counteract the pattern that he said might lead to war, Wallace asserted "We must make it clear that American power is being used to increase the productivity of the common man in peace all over the world, instead of being used to divide the world into two warring camps."

He advocated a new world movement, in which the leading powers—chiefly the United States—would spend billions of dollars to increase the productive power of peoples in less advanced areas.

Typical of such spending, he said, would be the construction of projects, similar to that of the Tennessee Valley authority, in "all the great river valleys of the world."

It also would include a loan to Russia, "without political strings attached" but preceded by "some frank discussions," he said.

"If we can't have an understanding with Russia at that point, I think World War III is inevitable," Wallace continued.

'Business As Usual' in Capitol

Blood Evidence Introduced by State As Judge Refuses Wentzel Demurrer

fecting his standing in the community.

Wentzel, his face flushed, apparently self-conscious, then was called as a witness and sworn in. Although evidencing almost extreme nervousness, he spoke in a loud clear voice.

After relating his personal background, that he had been married for 11 years, that he had one child, a daughter, and that he worked for the Doehler-Jarvis company for 18 years, he began a narration of his friendship with Mrs. Green.

They first met, he said, in the Doehler cafeteria approximately two years ago when they happened to sit together at noon on one day. Their acquaintance grew, he went on, and he finally asked to date her.

On their first date, Wentzel met her in a bar in Pottstown and they went to another bar in Reading.

He continued to date her more and more frequently, he testified, until they had steady dates three times a week and often four.

By joining numerous organizations, and by taking part in civic affairs, he provided himself with enough excuses to leave his wife at night, he said. He would meet Mrs. Green after the meetings and they would go out.

Wentzel related how, following a date in mid-November of 1940, they returned to Mrs. Green's apartment and found that a prowler had climbed in through the bathroom window leaving footprints in the bathtub. He said that he proceeded to lock every window in the apartment except the one in the bedroom.

"I didn't want to be seen standing in front of the bedroom window," he explained, "so perhaps I didn't try too hard to close it."

Only the bathroom towels, and nothing else, to his knowledge, were missing, he went on.

Then Wentzel proceeded to tell of the last three dates he had with Mrs. Green.

On Dec. 2, when they were supposed to have quarreled, he explained that he had made the date on the preceding Friday. At that time he had arranged to meet Mrs. Green after the Elks' meeting, he told the jury.

In the meantime, he went on to say, he accepted an invitation to go hunting, expecting to be back in time to keep his date. On the trip home, however, the car broke down and he stopped in Reading.

He had previously "made some sort of temporary arrangement" with Edwin Hartenstein, a friend who accompanied him on double dates with Mrs. Green and Rose Kohler, to meet him in Reading.

"There was no quarrel," he added. "Miriam merely asked why I wasn't at the Elks and why I hadn't let her know about the hunting trip."

"The only way I could have done that was to call her mother in Mohnton and leave a message," he said. "And," he added in a low voice, "I suppose I should have done that."

Wentzel then told about the date the following night when the two couples went to Philadelphia. He said that they met at Mrs. Green's apartment, and that he and Hartenstein each had a drink from a bottle of whisky there.

He examined a bottle of whisky taken from the murdered woman's apartment and on which one of his fingerprints had been discovered. It was the same brand of whisky that they drank, he stated, and may have been the same bottle.

The last date they had was on Wednesday, he said, when he called for her following an American Business club meeting. He told the jury that he drove down Chestnut street, gave her signal—three toots of his horn—and met her in Lehigh alley. They then drove to Reading for a few drinks, he said.

The following day he left on a hunting trip to a lodge in Potter county, he continued, and he did not return until 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

After relating what happened on the trip, and that 12 other men were present, he outlined his actions on Sunday, Dec. 8.

He covered almost every minute of the day up until 11 o'clock Sunday night, including his conversation with Hartenstein about a date for the following Wednesday.

He testified that the last arrangements he made with Mrs. Green were that he was to meet her train from Reading. She was supposed to call him Sunday night at the Elks' to let him know on which train she would arrive.

He did not get that call, he said, and went to her apartment. He opened the door with his key and went in. When he turned on the light, he saw her body on the bed, and walked into the bedroom.

"I saw her face, and that was that he was taken to jail in Norris-town.

He said that he saw District Attorney Frederick B. Smillie the next day and told him that he did not touch the bed in Mrs. Green's apartment. He also told him of telling his brother of finding the body.

Smillie, he remarked, told him he was co-operating beautifully and that he did not need a lawyer.

Later in the day, he said, the district attorney took him home.

"Even if you were guilty you wouldn't tell us," he quoted Smillie as saying on the way.

"The good Lord knows I'm innocent of anything in this case," he answered, "no matter what anyone tries to get me to say."

"I told Smillie that if I had gone to the police Sunday night, I would have had a perfect alibi," he testified.

Judge Corson asked him to explain this, and he said he meant that it would have saved him all the worry of the trial.

As they drew up to his house, Wentzel related, Smillie asked him if he had ever seen George Green strike Mrs. Green. He told the court that he answered "Yes" in front of Smillie and some county detectives.

He also asserted that Smillie tried to force his wife to admit that he struck her, but that she denied any such charge.

"It wouldn't do him any good if he did," he quoted her as saying.

Smillie, according to Wentzel, then went through the house and took his clothes, his wife's scarves, the cleats from his golf shoes, a small hammer, all the screwdrivers from his car, and some pages of "party jokes."

Permission to go to the lodge in Potter county was granted by Smillie, he asserted, provided that he told no one where he was going.

On the first day at the lodge, he drove to town for a newspaper, he related, and there were the headlines.

"Wentzel sneaks off to hunting lodge."

At this Scirica claimed angrily that the defense was insinuating that Smillie had told the papers and was responsible for the headlines.

Rosenberry countered that they were merely trying to point out that the district attorney had told Wentzel not to tell anyone where he was going.

Wentzel also testified that during his absence, the district attorney's office had access to his home.

The motion for dismissal was made following a short recess yesterday afternoon. As the jury filed back into their seats, Assistant District Attorney A. Benjamin Scirica indicated to the court that the Commonwealth had presented its case.

In spite of the fact that traces of human blood were found under Wentzel's fingernails on the day the body was discovered, Rosenberry asked that the jury be taken out again while he asked for the case to be dismissed.

The jury filed out silently.

In asking that the case be dismissed, Rosenberry declared:

"I feel the Commonwealth has not made out a case for a verdict of murder in the first degree."

Judge Corson pointed out that it was necessary that a verdict of first degree murder be brought in. He said that it was up to the prosecution to build up its case from second degree murder. A malicious murder took place, he said, and it is up to you to work down from second degree murder to acquit your client.

"I still don't believe the Commonwealth has presented enough evidence," Rosenberry insisted.

Showing the points in favor of the prosecution, Judge Corson said the Commonwealth has placed Wentzel at the scene of the crime at 11 o'clock Sunday night. It is then up to placing the time of death, he declared.

Two doctors, he continued, have placed the time at from 12 to 24 hours before the body was found, admitting the possibility that it could have been 72 hours.

Wentzel returned from his hunting trip at 2:30 o'clock Sunday morning, he went on. He told false stories. In each one he moved in closer to the death scene.

First, he saw the body from the doorway, then he stepped into the bedroom, then to the foot of the bed, and finally, he stood beside the body, the judge stated.

"Then, there was the bedroom window open Sunday night. Someone may have come in and killed her. Or someone may have known that Wentzel had a key to the apartment and to divert suspicion, Wentzel may have opened the window to make it appear that someone climbed in. He could have claimed then, why should he climb in the window when he had a key to the door?"

"There are the lights that were on in the kitchen and the bathroom at 11:30 o'clock Sunday night. There is the whisky bottle, which may or may not be important. And finally, there are the fingernail scrapings which show human blood.

"These may or may not be sufficient to warrant a verdict of murder; they are sufficient to prevent a judge from granting a demurrer. I feel there is sufficient evidence and will have to overrule the demurrer. The case will continue before the jury."

When the trial reconvened in the morning, George W. Green, the murdered woman's ex-husband, was recalled to the stand.

After learning that he was once held as a suspect in the case, and that he had never been picked up and questioned, Rosenberry asked him about his divorce.

He asked if he hadn't said "I will get even" when the divorce papers were served.

Green answered, "No, I did not."

When the defense refused to let Scirica enter Mrs. Green's scrapbook and photograph album as evidence of the Greens' happy marriage, Scirica charged.

"The defense is trying to show that Green is a suspect in this case."

"Yes, we are," Rosenberry declared.

It was noted by observers in the courtroom that this was one of the first indications that the defense might try to show that someone else was responsible for the death of the attractive brunet.

Judge Corson upheld the objections of the defense and told Scirica that the book would only serve to increase a possible revenge motive for Green.

County Detectives Albert Murphy, John Kuroczko, James Gleason, Charles Eller, Officer Harold E. Hahn and Prison Guard Ira Salliday all testified during the day to taking evidence and fingerprints.

FBI agent J. Everett Burke testified that Wentzel's fingerprint was on the whisky bottle found in Mrs. Green's apartment. His fellow agent, Beach, told of identifying the brown stains as human blood on the bedclothing, floor, bathtub, and clothing found in the apartment. He also identified some hairs found in the apartment as being similar to Wentzel's but of a lighter color.

Chief Laughhead was put on the stand, and told of the statements Wentzel gave to the police.

Rosenberry agreed to let the statements be read in court, and Scirica read eight different statements to the jury.

In his statements to the police, Wentzel told of his intimacy with Mrs. Green.

"I liked her, but I didn't love her," he told them. "She was a good sport, a good dancer, and a good drinking companion."

In his first statement, Wentzel denied that he had ever gotten Mrs. Green pregnant, but in his seventh, and unsigned statement, he admitted that he had. Medicine, however, was obtained by the murdered woman or one of her friends, and the pregnancy was terminated, he said.

It was not until he made his fourth statement that Wentzel admitted to the police that he had a key to the apartment.

In his second statement, Wentzel admitted going to the apartment and finding the body. In his third, he went as far as the bedroom door. In the fourth, he went to the foot of the bed. Finally, in the fifth, he admitted going up to the side of the bed, before he ran out of the apartment.

The sixth statement to the police bore a sketch done by Wentzel which showed exactly where he stood when he saw the body. It also bore a written statement that he was not under pressure when he made the statement.

The seventh and unsigned statement offered in evidence by the prosecution rocked the courtroom with its questions and answers.

Developed around the intimacies of Wentzel and Mrs. Green, it delved deeply into their private and clandestine life. While it unfolded,

Spanish War Vets Plan Memorial Day Program

Details of the Spanish-American War Veterans' Memorial Day program, including selection of a church and speakers, will be made at the American Legion home at a special meeting April 20, it was announced last night.

Gathering in the VFW home, 530 High street, the veterans planned their services at Ellis Woods Memorial park on May 25, the Sunday preceding Memorial Day. This spot, the resting-place of many Revolutionary War soldiers, is a traditional meeting-place for Pottstown Spanish War veterans.

With ten members on hand, last night's meeting had the best attendance in recent months, according to Melvin B. Krause, post adjutant.

Reception Arranged For Mexican President

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The White House made public tonight elaborate plans for the reception of President Miguel Aleman of Mexico when he arrives here April 29 for a three-day visit.

Aleman will return the call made by President Truman in Mexico City March 3. He will be accorded military honors and will be honored guest at a state dinner on the night of his arrival.

Mrs. Wentzel sat with head bowed and her eyes downcast.

One of the most startling implications brought out was that at one time Wentzel admitted that he had suspicions about who could have committed the crime.

Speaking of Hartenstein, Wentzel told the police:

"I am convinced that he knows more than he is telling. I don't say he did it, but he knows more than he is telling."

on their way to Shattuck from Oklahoma City.

The midwest area headquarters for the Red Cross in St. Louis said rescue squads were being sent to Glazier from Canadian, and that nurses, cots, blankets and medical supplies were being sent from Amarillo. Two doctors were en route from Perryton.

Townpeople at Shattuck ranged the countryside around Higgins in automobiles, seeking out injured and dead.

At Austin, Tex., William McGill, executive secretary to Gov. Beauford Jester, said he was staying on duty in the governor's office all night and keeping the governor informed of reports from the Panhandle area.

The department of public safety used its two-way shortwave radio to keep communications open.

The Red Cross advised the governor that it is rushing blood plasma into the area from all parts of the country.

Telephone lines to Higgins, northeast of Glazier, were knocked out by the storm. Wire connections to Woodward, Okla., were disrupted.

Pickup trucks, wheat trucks and automobiles were pressed into service to bring the injured to the hospital here. The hospital has a capacity of only 10 beds and supervisors said the storm victims were placed in halls, consultation rooms and any other available space.

Attendants said some were seriously hurt, some only slightly.

Three persons were hurt at White Deer, Carson county, where the storm struck first. Several houses were flattened at White Deer and 21 freight cars blown from their track. A housewife and two trainmen were injured there.

The twister proceeded northeast-

Two Escaped Patients From Hospital Captured

PHOENIXVILLE, April 9 (AP)—Two of the three mentally ill Army patients who overpowered a hospital guard and escaped from the Army's Valley Forge General hospital last night were back in the hospital today.

John Zoltor, 28, returned to the hospital early this morning. Charles Fizzell, 33, Milwaukee, was picked up by Philadelphia police as he was attempting to thumb a ride to his home in Brooklyn. The third fugitive was identified by the hospital as Nathaniel Green, 23, a Chicago Negro.

Lt. Lewis Huggins, officer of the day, said five men were involved in the break but two were caught on the hospital grounds after escaping from a locked ward. The three others overpowered a guard and forced him to drive them to Philadelphia, Lt. Huggins said.

Cattle Rustling Modern In Postwar Germany

BERLIN, April 9 (AP)—Cattle rustling has gone modern in postwar Germany, where it is waged by German blackmarketers out to replenish their illegal meat stocks.

Allied occupation forces have come across these modern racketeers who raid farms traveling in trucks, roundup several head of cattle, slaughter them on the spot and fling the carcasses into their trucks.

ward, following the route of the Santa Fe railroad. It was sighted at Pampa, Gray county, and crossed a farm area near Miami, Roberts county.

Hallstones as large as golf balls were reported accompanying the storm at both Glazier and White Deer.

Proposal for Border Blocked by Molotov

MOSCOW, April 9 (AP)—Britain and the United States proposed to-night that an international commission be created to work out details of a compromise German-Polish border which would allow Poland to retain control of industrial Silesia but return to Germany some agricultural lands now occupied by the Poles.

The proposal, made in the four-power Council of Foreign Ministers, was immediately blocked by V. M. Molotov of Russia. He argued that Poland should retain all of the 40,000 square miles of eastern German territory—including Silesia and the farm lands—which were placed under her administration at Potsdam.

Foreign Minister George Bidault, of France, agreed that the boundary question should be studied further, but did not say whether he favored or opposed the present frontier.

U. S. Secretary of State George Marshall and British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin both quoted hitherto unpublished speeches by Prime Minister Stalin at Potsdam, to back up their arguments that the present Polish frontier was not then considered final.

Molotov, in turn, quoted from a radio speech by President Truman which, the Russian said, showed that Mr. Truman considered the boundary to have been fixed permanently at Potsdam.

Hearing Date Arranged in Teacher Pay Issue

HARRISBURG, April 9 (AP)—Chairman D. Raymond Sollenberger (R-Blair), of the House education committee, called a public hearing today for April 22 on legislation to increase salaries of 60,000 teachers in Pennsylvania.

The magnitude of the hearing, he said, will require it to be held in the educational forum which seats about 1700 persons.

Sollenberger, along with Rep. George D. Stuart (R-Allegheny) have sponsored a bill backed by the Pennsylvania State Education association to increase the mandated minimum salary of school teachers from $1400 to $2400.

15 Workers Affected By Chlorine Vapors

WILMINGTON, Del., April 9 (AP)—Fifteen persons were felled at the General Chemical company plant near here today by deadly chlorine gas which the company reported was drawn through an elevator shaft.

The break developed suddenly and the pale greenish vapor seeped through the building in suffocating concentration before maintenance crews could shut down the line.

Six persons were affected seriously enough to require hospitalization. They included Thomas A. Prince, 45, Drexel Hill, Pa.

Alleged Kidnapers Denies Any Harm To Girl, 5; Is Held in $10,000 Bail

NEW ORLEANS, April 9 (AP)—William G. Fuller, held here under $10,000 bond in connection with the alleged kidnaping of Mary Ann Kubon, said tonight the five-year-old child is "like my own daughter" and that "I don't have the guts for kidnaping."

Interviewed in the parish prison, Fuller protested that no harm was meant to Mary Ann "because I love her so much."

"Is that why you took her away?" he was asked.

"Well, I didn't see anything wrong under the circumstances," Fuller replied. He added that he had never attempted to conceal the identity of himself or the child. He said he had used his own name in his travels.

The former convict was charged in Chicago with kidnaping Mary Ann on June 29, 1945 and since has been sought throughout the country by the FBI on charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

C. E. Weeks, FBI agent here, said Fuller was apprehended on a highway near here last night as he attempted to hitchhike a ride to New York. He was accompanied by his wife and the little girl.

Awaiting the arrival of Chicago authorities today, curly haired Mary Ann couldn't understand what was happening to her.

Dressed in a blue and white pinafore provided by the St. Vincent's infant asylum, where she is being cared for, Mary Ann asked, "How long am I going to be here? I know daddy's in a hotel but he's supposed to come get me."

Her big blue eyes sparkled as she

Rival Conservatives Deadlocked in Japan

TOKYO, April 9 (AP)—A political fight between the two conservative parties forming the government's present legislative majority loomed today as an aftermath of a recent series of political purges.

Three key men in the newly-reorganized Democratic party were knocked from active politics by purge orders issued by the Japanese screening committee.

The Democratic party, formed on the basis of the progressive party and Dissident Liberal and minor party members, held 145 seats in the House of Representatives. That is a plurality of two seats over the Liberal party, which actually is conservative.

PHONE STRIKE —

The last two days and all of the 81 items of a local nature have been agreed upon. We believe that as a result of our talks on the ten national items, we fully understand each other's position.

"The union now will submit the company's proposals to the union's general executive board in New York and later to the policy committee of the National Federation of Telephone Workers for consideration."

"It should be understood that the union has been bargaining only for its members who are employed by the long lines department of the American Telephone and Telegraph company and that the company's proposals apply to members of this union only."

"We have not been attempting to establish a national pattern for the industry and have no idea as to whether or not the proposals submitted to this union will be offered to other telephone unions."

"This union's members will not return to work until a settlement has been reached between all striking unions in the National Federation of Telephone Workers and their respective companies."

Despite Moan's emphasis on the idea that the agreement applies only on long lines, Government officials took encouragement from the fact that a long lines settlement laid the groundwork for heading off a threatened strike the past year.

Warren, however, was reserved in his official comment.

"Tonight's work ends one phase of this job," he said in a statement.

"We appreciate that this is not the last step in the settlement of this strike, but it is a long step forward."

The AUTW's executive board, which must approve the agreement, is composed of nine members. Four of them participated in the negotiations here, and they reportedly had a virtual go ahead to act for the other members.

The Southwestern negotiations and the long distance negotiations were brought separately into Washington at the request of Secretary of Labor Schwelbach because of their importance in relation to the nation-wide strike.

Night officials of the southwestern company departed for St. Louis. Everett E. Cotter, general counsel for the Southwestern Telephone union, told reporters:

"We consider the company as having broken off negotiations which will undoubtedly result in prolonging the whole strike."

In St. Louis, a spokesman for the Southwestern Bell Telephone company tonight denied that the company had broken off strike settlement negotiations in Washington, as stated by Cotter.

"Our representatives left Washington because they saw nothing to be gained by continuing negotiations there," Richard Horner, public relations director for the company, said tonight. "We are perfectly willing to resume the talks whenever the union representatives desire. Our offer to arbitrate the union's wage demands is still open."

gressional committee on atomic energy.

Lilienthal issued this brief statement tonight:

"The important thing now is to get on with the job. It is an urgent job. It demands the wholehearted team work of the entire American people, of science, industry, the armed forces and the Government."

Lilienthal's victory had been conceded generally following the Senate's 52-to-38 defeat the past Thursday of a motion to return the nomination to committee for an FBI check on his record.

Lilienthal, 47 years old, was assailed by the opposition as "effish," a "New Dealer" a believer in "big government," and as too lenient toward Communism.

ICC Reports Train Topped Speed Limit

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The Pennsylvania railroad's Red Arrow appeared to have been traveling at twice its authorized speed when it plunged over an embankment, not far from Horseshoe curve and carried 24 persons to death and injured 138 others, the Interstate Commerce commission reported today.

The accident, in the pre-dawn hours of Feb. 18, occurred on a downgrade curve where, the commission's investigation showed, the maximum authorized speed was between 30 and 35 miles an hour.

The commission estimated that the train was going in excess of 65 miles an hour when the two locomotives left the tracks and 10 of the 15 cars were derailed. Several of the cars were tossed on their sides along the deep embankment.

the day after a score of others had protested against the enactment of one cent tax on each cigar and 20 percent levy on smoking and chewing tobacco and imposts of a cent on every 12 fluid ounces of bottled soft drinks and one cent a fluid ounce on syrup.

Sen. James A. Gelz (R-Allegany), chairman of the Senate finance committee, said at the conclusion of the tax hearings the committee will meet again sometime next week.

"I don't know whether the committee can take any action then although I hope it can," Gelz added.

Asked about the claim by Harter that the soft drink tax would be imposed on chocolate milk distributed at school lunch programs with Federal grants, Gelz commented:

"I understand the Federal Government taxes the fathers of those children to help pay for those grants, too."

More than 5000 bottlers and their employees congregated in the capitol for the protests, industry spokesmen said, but only about 1000 of them were able to find space in the crowded Senate chamber. Every available space was taken including window ledges in the ornate chamber.

FIRE ALARM —

advocated. It was suggested that every corner not protected by a fire alarm box could be covered by an imaginary box. These would be numbered and, in cases of fires, the number could be sent from borough hall to the company nearest the scene of the fire. The borough would be zoned.

The question of location of fire plugs was also discussed. It was reported that yesterday the entire Ninth ward was surveyed by Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer and Fire Marshal Harold Wentzel. Lindauer said a list of proposed new plugs and replacements will be submitted to the councilmanic fire committee when the surveys are completed.

It was announced that fire alarm boxes will be installed in the two hospitals. Memorial hospital will have Box 12 while Pottstown hospital will be numbered 22. The newly-installed box at Price street and Bellevue avenue is numbered 38.

Wels said that his committee will meet next Wednesday night at borough hall to consider the suggestions made at last night's conference.

Present last night were the following: Chief Lindauer, assistant chiefs Robert Roth and Irvin Scheetz; Henry Schmoeyer, Harry E. Yergey, Ralph E. Malsberger, Raymond Andre, Elwood Kerr, Francis Borguet, Andrew Moser, Raymond Stichter, Victor Fegely and Weis.

Lilienthal's victory had been conceded generally following the Senate's 52-to-38 defeat the past Thursday of a motion to return the nomination to committee for an FBI check on his record.

SINATRA VICTOR —

I knew was when I saw a face that looked like Sinatra's above me."

The crooner's attorney, Albert Pearson, said Frankie was called "a nasty name" by Mortimer, and:

"Frankie told him to mind his own business. Mortimer made a lunge for him and Frankie let him have it. Actually, if anyone's at fault, it is Mortimer. There's a law against using profanity."

Sinatra, who hangs onto a microphone like he needs support, earlier had declared:

"I saw red. I hit him. I'm sorry it happened, but I was raised in a tough neighborhood where you had to fight at the drop of a hat."

Pearson spiked rumors hereabouts that Sinatra, whose father fought in New Jersey under the name "Marty O'Brien," had a boxing license—which under California law would make battery a felony.

"When Frankie was 15 he fought in one amateur bout at a Catholic high school," Pearson averred "and that's all."

"My head hurts and my neck aches," Mortimer said. "I'm going out to see about the X-rays. I've got to stop this guy, somehow. How are newspapers ever going to write anything if they're going to be intimidated?"

Sinatra incorporated a boost for his juvenile followers in his defense: "For two years," he commented, "Mortimer has been needling me. He has referred to my bobby-soxer fans as morons. I don't care if they do try to tear your clothes off. They are only kids 14 and 15 years old."

pledged dumping "what was cleaned up over the borough line into adjoining townships." He advocated use of the municipal dump at the foot of Keim street for this purpose.

Dr. Harry K. Marcy, chairman of the Minute Men's health committee, recommended that members urge the borough manager to enact and enforce legislation regulating the sale of meat in Pottstown. At present there is no law requiring that meat be inspected, he said. Members voted to communicate these sentiments to the manager.

The meeting was presided over by Chairman Henry L. Pratt.

neighbor, Jesse Bobels, Glasgow, where they are residing during the emergency.

Capt. Cox said they are now equipped with the necessities of life and that Kochel, a hard-working frugal man, is planning to rebuild his home as soon as the insurance money is received and he is able to obtain building materials.

Capt. Cox supplied the family with clothing on Tuesday and an appeal in yesterday's Mercury for bed clothing and other articles brought prompt donations of a couple of beds, bed clothing, additional clothing and several chairs.

Little Joan Kochel lost her eye glasses in the blaze and, because of an affliction of her left eye, she cannot see properly without their aid.

Yesterday morning Captain Cox brought the child to the office of an optician in Pottstown. She was measured for a new pair of glasses and a few hours later she said happily, "Now I can see good again." The glasses were paid for by the Lions club.

Cagney, Tracy on Yacht Radio for Assistance

LOS ANGELES, April 9 (AP)—Film Actor James Cagney radioed the Coast Guard for assistance tonight, saying his 125-foot yacht, The Swift, with Actor Spencer Tracy aboard, had encountered engine trouble about a mile off Abalone Point, near Laguna Beach, and that it was unable to make harbor under sail.

The Coast Guard cutter Perseus was dispatched from San Diego waters to town The Swift to port.

UNITED NATIONS —

council decision meant she was obliged to comply with the rulings of both the council and the court.

Earlier in the day the United Nations commission for conciliation ordered the five great powers to get together on a plan for tackling the problem of reducing the world's arms and forces.

The arms decision split the big five three ways.

The commission decided by nine votes out of 11 to establish a sub-committee to frame a work plan for submission to the U. N. Security council. Britain wanted a committee of the whole commission, then abstained from the vote along with Belgium.

The commission finally decided by a bare six-vote majority that the sub-committee should be limited to the five great powers—China, Britain, France, Russia and the United States.

France, Russia, Syria, Brazil, Colombia and Poland voted for this; Britain and Belgium voted against it; the United States and China abstained.

The United States took the position that an 11-nation working committee would be preferable to a big five sub-committee as proposed by Dr. Alfonso Lopez of Colombia. The sub-committee decided tentatively to meet Friday.

It must chart the future course of the commission which has been instructed by the Security council to draw up recommendations for general world arms limitation and reduction of forces. The commission must make its first report to the council by May 13.

The decision represented a thumping victory for Brazil and Colombia.

PLAYGROUNDS —

It's there for the public and they're entitled to it," he declared.

Larry E. Orzell, also on the board, said he was "absolutely in favor of having the grounds used as a playground." He added that schedules after school hours could not conflict with practice of the baseball team but, barring that, it had his backing.

Ralph P. Holloway, board secretary, warned that unsupervised playing might result in damage to school property, but under proper direction the scheme "would be perfectly fine."

Elmer E. Saylor, still another school board member, declared, "I've always been in favor of it."

Donnon said the recreation commission expected to receive $3000 from both the school board and the borough for the next fiscal year.

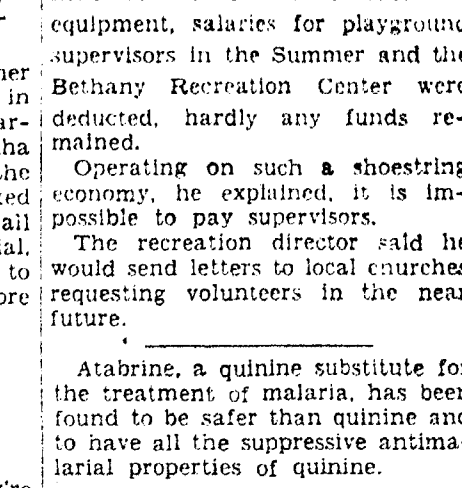

He pointed out, however, that when his salary of $3200 and numerous other costs, such as equipment, salaries for playground supervisors in the Summer and the Bethany Recreation Center were deducted, hardly any funds remained.

Operating on such a shoestring economy, he explained, it is impossible to pay supervisors.

The recreation director said he would send letters to local churches requesting volunteers in the near future.

Valley Forge Group Stages Army Week Programs for Pupils

To observe Army Week now in progress, patients and duty personnel of the Valley Forge General hospital yesterday staged two shows, one at the Senior High school and another at the Junior High school.

Included in the act was the 440th dance band under the direction of T. Sgt. Conrad Lambrecht and featuring a vocal by S. Sgt. Henry Meier. The master of ceremonies was Lt. Ernst Greup.

The same show, which played for the Senior High assembly at 8:30 a. m. and the Junior High at 1:45 p. m., presented girl pupils at each of the schools as a surprise feature.

Senior High's contribution to the program was Gloria Lazenski, a senior, and at the Junior High, Betty McMann and Bobbie Schmearer sang.

The speaker for each presentation was Capt. Henry Dais, who discussed the significance of Army Week, telling of the Army's transition from war to peace.

He listed some of the Army's peacetime accomplishments and explained why it must continue strong in peace. He repeated the Army's slogan, "A strong America is a peaceful America."

Modern Baking Methods Are Described to ABC

Charles L. Schulz, owner of the Schulz Baking company, last night highlighted the advances in modern baking as he has seen it in his own shop. He spoke at a meeting of the American Business club.

Schulz said that when the firm began in 1902 a loaf of bread cost five cents as compared with about 15 cents now.

"In those days, he said, a baking company needed a lot of bakers to get the day's baking done. Now it hires one baker and many mechanics to accomplish the same thing."

William MacFarland was in charge of the meeting at the Elks' home and introduced two guests, Vernon Brooks and Harley Fisher, of the Norristown chapter, who told of that branch's efforts to help spastic paralytics.

Leonard Hiltwine will direct the next weekly meeting and will have C. Edmund Wells for the speaker.

14 NATIONS ASK SPECIAL SESSION ON PALESTINE

United States Favors U. N. Assembly Meeting; 28 Votes Necessary

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 9 (AP)—Trygve Lie, secretary general of the United Nations, announced tonight that 14 countries had replied in favor of the proposed special session of the United Nations General Assembly on the Palestine question.

Lie named those nations as Cuba, France, United States, China, Haiti, Honduras, Liberia, Greece, New Zealand, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Sweden, Panama and Paraguay.

The secretary general also told a news conference that he was sending William H. Stoneman, of his personal staff, to Geneva tomorrow to write a report on the work of the U. N. secretariat staff with the Balkan investigating commission.

Lie said that if anyone on the secretariat had shown any political or other bias he would be dismissed. He said Stoneman's report would be made to him personally in a week and he had not decided whether to make it public.

"I feel it is necessary for me to give all possible protection to the staff of the United Nations because this is not the last time," Lie said. "I think that we will send a commission out of the United Nations headquarters," Lie said.

He said he had discussed rumors concerning the Balkan commission secretariat with the British and American delegates to the United Nations but that neither Sir Alexander Cadogan nor Warren R. Austin had made any recommendations.

He said he had received no complaints from governments, or from the Balkan commission or from members of the commission. He acknowledged in answer to questions that he had heard rumors affecting the commission's secretariat.

Lie said there had been a misunderstanding in reports that he was checking the secretariat for pro-Soviet leanings. He quoted U. N. regulations saying that the secretariat must be international civil servants and declared that he never had asked a man whether he was a Communist, Liberal, Democrat or whatever.

Allies Comb Berlin For Army Deserters In War on Crimes

BERLIN, April 9 (AP)—The four Allied powers opened a city-wide roundup of criminal elements and Allied Army deserters in Berlin tonight as part of a plan to combat the city's high crime rate.

In announcing the operation Maj. Gen. Frank A. Keating, deputy U. S. military governor, said the 5000 members of the German police force were taking part in the roundup—the first of its kind in Berlin.

Each power will confine its activities to its own sector, and sector boundaries are being closely watched. Soldiers have been instructed to remain in their own sectors.

Otherwise, Keating said, they will run the risk of being picked up. The operation began at 2 p. m. (Pottstown time). Sporadic raids will be carried out for the next 24 hours.

The Russian list of wanted men and women in the American sector included 50 civilians for war crimes plus eight Soviet army deserters. The French list carried 15 names of persons wanted for war crimes and anti-nationalistic activity. The British submitted no list to the Americans, mainly because the Americans and British security forces have been working closely together all along.

The allied commandant decided to conduct the raid in all sectors of Berlin some weeks ago on the proposal of the Russians.

Good News For Folks Who Suffer From

- ✓ STOMACH GAS
- ✓ SOUR FOOD TASTE
- ✓ ACID INDIGESTION

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal, taste sour, bitter food? If there is more to you than get blessed relief from this new tonic.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles, else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Greeks Use Land-Air Drive To Battle 3000 Guerillas

ATHENS, Thursday, April 10 (AP)—Greek government troops, supplied and supported from the air, were reported today to be attempting the encirclement of a Leftist guerilla force of approximately 3000 men in the wild mountainous region separating Thessaly from Epirus.

Advances from military sources in Athens and Larissa said the operations in the Pindus mountains were taking place at an altitude of 6000 feet above sea level. This same region was the scene of ferocious fighting early in the Greek-Italian war.

The Greek Second and Third army corps have launched a long-expected general offensive against guerillas in western Macedonia and Thessaly. A general staff spokesman said the campaign was designed to "break the backbone of the guerillas."

Gen. Yagdis, commanding the two corps, told newsmen at Larissa that the operations were progressing satisfactorily. "Divisional commanders have been telling me," he said, "that the air force is causing heavy damage to the guerillas."

The attack against the guerillas' positions in the Pindus range was being made from the south, east and west. A major objective was the town of Nevropolis, 15 miles west of Karditsa in Thessaly, where advanced government units were reported to have established contact with the guerillas. Earlier the guerilla headquarters at Nevropolis was bombed and machine-gunned by government planes.

WELFARE FUND ALLOTS $1000 TO MINERS' KIN

Number May Exceed 5000; Lewis Seeks Royalty Rate Increase

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—That welfare fund for coal miners started operating at last today, and John L. Lewis grudgingly gave notice that it must continue from now on.

Trustees of the fund, as their first major business, announced a $1000 death benefit for every one of Lewis' bituminous miners who has died since the past June 1, from any cause.

That number—perhaps more than 5000—includes the 111 who died in the Centuria, Ill., disaster that set off the present confusion of stoppages in the coal fields.

Lewis' pronouncement on future welfare fund policy added another element of uncertainty to the coal outlook, already muddled by questions as to how long the current "safety" stoppage will last and whether the miners will work after June 30 when the Government must return the seized mines to their owners.

At the news conference of the three-man trusteeship board where the death benefit decision was announced, Lewis said the AFL-United Mine Workers "have no intention of signing any contracts that don't continue a welfare fund."

Furthermore he said the present five cents a ton royalty paid into the fund under the Government-operating agreement doesn't furnish enough money—that it ought to be ten cents.

Private mine owners have shrunk away from the idea of any fund at all. That was one of the big issues of the past Spring's strike that brought about Government seizure, and it has been one of the stumbling blocks in the way of a contract with the private operators that would have permitted the Government to get out of the mining business before now.

During the past ten months, with about 2500 bituminous mines in Government possession, the fund has risen to $18,000,000. Until recently there has been no board of trustees to decide how to spend it.

Taking part with Lewis in the news conference today, however, were his fellow board members—chairman Thomas E. Murray, president of the Metropolitan Engineering corporation, Brooklyn, N. Y., and Capt. N. H. Collins, Federal mines administrator.

Use of liquefied petroleum gas for long-haul truck fuel is increasing.

GOP Legislators Protest Dual Role U. S. Portrays in Communist Issue

Smart Pup Helps Phone Picketing

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 (AP)—Picketing telephone operators received help from an unexpected source here today.

A small dog attracted by candy and peanuts given him by the operators became a full fledged picket. Complete with sandwich sign denouncing management, the stray pup marched up and down.

But when the girls stopped feeding him, the dog—now wise in labor matters—went off on a strike of his own. No food, no marching and off he went.

House Group Urges Contempt Charges Against Dennis

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—A Double Contempt action against Eugene Dennis, Communist party secretary, was voted unanimously today by the House committee on un-American activity.

Conviction could mean as much as three years in jail and a fine of $10,000 for him.

Dennis disobeyed a committee order to appear for a hearing.

So the members:

1. Voted to cite him for contempt of Congress. The House itself has to approve, then the case goes to a U. S. district attorney and a Grand jury. The maximum punishment upon conviction is a $10,000 fine and a year in jail.

2. Voted to ask the Justice department to prosecute Dennis for "conspiracy to commit contempt," for which the top penalty is $10,000 fine and two years in prison.

3. Heard committee investigator Louis J. Russell, an FBI agent for 12 years, testify that Dennis had a police record.

In addition, the committee agreed to ask the Justice department to prosecute Gerhart Eisler and Leon Josephson, both of New York, for conspiracy to commit contempt.

The committee has called Eisler the "supreme" Communist authority in America. It has received testimony linking Josephson to Soviet espionage activities and a false passport ring.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—A group of Republican "outs" in protest today that the United States is trying to go to war at once on foreign policy—seeking to stem Communism in Greece and Turkey and act in a way to encourage it elsewhere.

Other Republicans, meanwhile, continued to urge speed on both the Greek-Turkish question and on relief legislation designed to help Europe and China.

Both House and Senate were involved in the debate which covered the $400,000,000 grant to Greece and Turkey, the $350,000,000 relief program for former occupied areas of Europe and China, lend-lease settlements, undelivered UNRRA supplies and world bank outlays.

Senator Butler (R-Neb.) told the Senate that the United States is "staging the world's biggest prize fight and financing both sides" by proposing help to Greece and Turkey while advancing funds to Russia's satellites under other programs.

Butler objected to (1) a State department request for $25,000,000 to settle up accounts on an arid and rather shady deal with Russia involving final settlement of the lend-lease operation, (2) Plans to send potatoes as "gifts" to Stalin's leading puppet, Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia, and (3) Polish and Czechoslovak negotiations for loans of "good American dollars" from the world bank.

Chairman Taber (R-NY) of the House appropriations committee demanded in the House to know why President Truman cannot "stop export licenses to Russian-occupied territory and move in one direction on our foreign affairs."

Taber said he referred to plans to send millions in relief during the next three months to Poland, Yugoslavia, the Ukraine and White Russia, under the expiring UNRRA program.

Stassen, Stalin Talk Of Economic Orders

MOSCOW, Thursday April 10 (AP)—Harold Stassen, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, had an 80-minute conversation with Prime Minister Stalin last night. Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov also was present.

"We had a frank discussion of the two economic systems," Stassen said without elaboration. He told newsmen he had asked for a transcript of the talk and might be able to comment more fully after receiving it.

Stassen said Stalin carried on a very alert discussion and smoked an occasional cigar.

Stassen has just returned to Moscow from a three-day trip to the Urals. At Sverdlovsk, he said, he saw a heavy machine building plant which formerly made tanks manufacturing well-digging equipment.

Century Club Hears Interesting Talk
On 'Conserving Our Natural Resources'

Miss Blanche Cochran, teacher of biology at Coatesville High school, discussed the need of conserving our natural resources and ways to do it, at a meeting of Century Club yesterday afternoon in Library hall.

"Conservation," said Miss Cochran, "means wise use. It is a way of living, an attitude of nature. The adage 'Waste not, want not' should be applied to our natural wealth. Any plan for the conservation of our natural resources must embrace all of them for minerals produce soil which produces our food, and forests that shelter our wild life and protect our watersheds. To neglect one is to affect all."

"Minerals are irreplaceable. The United States uses a tremendous amount of minerals and they must be conserved if our way of living is to be maintained. Yet two-thirds of all the petroleum that gushes from the earth is wasted. In 1941 we were using steel at the rate of 1000 pounds per person. Land that has been strip mined for coal is ruined; nothing will grow there for from 10 to 15 years. Technology is the secret to the conservation of our minerals, we must discover new ways of finding mining and processing our mineral wealth so as not to waste too much."

"Erosion of the land is an appalling waste. It takes 50 feet of limestone rock to form one foot of soil—9000 years are needed to weather one foot of soil. Soil that is washed away by each rain or flood. The soil habits of the people of the Eastern United States are encouraging in desert conditions."

"By cutting down our forests we have destroyed our water sheds, this condition encourages floods which increase soil erosion. However this lack of foresight can be corrected by reforestation. Because of the rapid use of our timber during the war forestry should be good business for the next ten years. A certain number of acres planted in trees can be as profitable as a farm of the same size if properly managed."

"Governor Duff has said, 'Our number one health problem is to clean our streams.' Besides the pollution of our streams is killing thousands of stream fish. It is necessary for the State to maintain 10 fish hatcheries to preserve all the spawning grounds in Pennsylvania have been destroyed. Also the streams no longer have sufficient food to feed a large number of fish."

Miss Cochran also discussed briefly the protection of song birds, small game, and wild flowers.

In conclusion she said, "It is necessary to repair the damage done by man unless we are to denude ourselves of all our natural wealth." Miss Cochran suggested the pledge, "I give my pledge, as an American, to be kind and faithfully defend from waste the natural resources of my country."

Eleanor C. Lawler and Ralph J. O'Connell
Married in St. Aloysius Catholic Church

Before an altar banked with Easter lilies and ferns yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in St. Aloysius Catholic church, Miss Eleanor C. Lawler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Lawler, 356 South street, became the bride of Mr. Ralph James O'Connell, son of Mrs. Annie O'Connell, 444 High street.

The nuptial high mass was celebrated by the Rev. David Leahy, assistant rector. The Revs. William A. McCook, rector; Thomas McCrossen, and John F. Campbell, assistant rectors, were present in the sanctuary.

A recital of bridal music was presented by Mrs. Charles J. McCarthy, organist, and Mrs. William McDevitt, soloist.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white brocaded satin. Her finger tip veil was held in place with a cap of lace from her First Communion veil and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies, with a shower of butterfly knots.

Mrs. Leo Lawler, sister-in-law of the bride, as matron of honor, was attired in a gown of aqua marquette. She wore a wreath of yellow daisies in her hair and carried a shower bouquet of yellow daisies, lily petals, and daffodils. The bridesmaids were Miss Marie Hipple and Miss May Krupenbach. Miss Hipple was gowned in blue organza trimmed in white and Miss Krupenbach wore yellow organza with white trim. They both wore wreaths of white daisies in their hair and carried shower bouquets of white daisies. Young Gail Lawler as flower girl, wore a floor length gown of white net. She also wore a wreath of white daisies in her hair and carried a basket of Spring flowers.

Mr. Nicholas Chieffo performed the duties of best man while Messrs. Guernsey Biehl and Thomas Lawler, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Mrs. Lawler, mother of the bride, wore a pink crepe dress with black trim and black accessories. Mrs. McConnell, mother of the bridegroom, chose black. Each wore a corsage of daisies.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Eagles' home, after which the couple left on a honeymoon trip to New York, the bride wearing a brown print jersey dress, brown accessories and a corsage of baby orchids.

Upon their return they will reside in the home of the bride's parents.

Guests attended from Scranton, Girardville, Mahanoy City, Reading, Philadelphia, Jersey City, Asbury Park, Washington, D. C., Souderton, Coatesville, and Pottstown.

Red Light Warns Motorists Nearing The Natural Bridge

NATURAL BRIDGE, Va., April 9 (AP)—Motorists speeding North over route 11 through Virginia's Shenandoah Valley suddenly find themselves confronted by a red traffic light. It is an unusual light—there is no highway intersection anywhere near, and the scene is entirely rural.

The light warns of the approach to the 90-foot span of the Natural Bridge of Virginia across a 215-foot gorge. The highway at the point twists sharply on a steep downgrade just before crossing the natural span. It was—and still is—dangerous.

Highway department planning engineers, who erected the light two years ago after a series of serious accidents, say the result has been "highly satisfactory"—no smashups at a place where there had been 28 in 10 years, killing 12 and injuring 52.

If the motorist approaches the light at a speed greater than 25 miles per hour it flashes red. And the light won't turn green until he slows down. If the motorist doesn't slow down he will have to stop at the red, but when he does the light flashes green. It is controlled by a complicated sequence of electronics, rigged with underground wires to a detector arm imbedded in the highway 280 feet from the light.

The highway department is planning a number of similar lights at danger zones.

Switzerland Extends Compulsory Tipping

BERN, April 9 (AP)—The Swiss system of service charges on hotel accounts has been extended to make it compulsory for all hoteliers, regardless of size. Previously only larger hotels were required to collect the charges for the benefit of employees.

The rates are 15 percent of the basic hotel bill for one-night stops, ten percent for guests who remain three or more nights, and five percent for more or less permanent guests.

The service-charge plan, built up over a half century, originally was intended to take the place of tipping.

Even on a Pension, The Man Always Pays

BOULDER, Colo., April 9 (AP)—Accustomed to requests for more money, Boulder County Welfare Director C. B. Ford was flabbergasted to receive a letter from a woman, an old age pensioner, returning her monthly check for $45 and a $202 year-end distribution check.

He was still more amazed when he read the letter which said, in part:

"We can live on what my husband is getting and so I am sending back my checks. And please don't send me any more. I think we can get along on his pension. If I should need it later I will let you know."

Juvenile Delinquency Is Sweeping Japan

TOKYO, April 9 (AP)—Japanese children, once highly regarded as obedient, have been running amok in a wave of juvenile delinquency.

The newspaper Nippon Keizai says that in one school most the fifth and sixth grade pupils are inveterate smokers, acquiring the habit while gathering cigaret butts for their elders.

In a town near Tokyo, grade school pupils staged a drunken celebration and slept it off in a shrine. A gang of home robbers was organized in another school. Police estimate crimes committed by juveniles show a 100 percent increase for the year.

In the 60 years since gold was discovered in South Africa, the area has yielded some 10 billion dollars worth of the precious metal.

United States Urged To Keep Industry at Peak in Bomb Work

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Quasi-official military documents urged today indefinite retention of America's industrial capacity to produce atomic bombs and maintenance of advanced defensive basis, but discounted the possibility of a push-button war of long-range missiles in the near future.

The information, purporting to represent War and Navy department "thinking" on problems posed by development of atomic energy as an instrument of war, was gathered by the Library of Congress legislative reference service for use of congressional committees.

War department officials acknowledged the document setting forth its views was prepared within the department, but said it is not an officially initiated product of the general staff. The summation of the Navy department's views was described by officials as "authentic but not official."

Those two documents were made available to newsmen today by the congressional library.

The War department summary said that the most the United States could expect from an international control system "is a period of approximately one year in which to prepare for a full scale atomic attack with significant quantities of bombs after warning has been given of a major violation of international control regulations."

It contended for this reason that "we must retain indefinitely, in accord with international agreements, our knowledge and industrial capacity to produce atomic weapons."

Set up this estimated time table in the international efforts to develop atom bombs:

"At present to the best of our knowledge only the U.S. has developed and manufactured atomic bombs. Other nations are making strong efforts to develop this weapon, but our best estimates indicate that it will take any other nation several years successfully to complete one bomb."

"It is further estimated that unless a new, 'short cut' technique is developed, and this is not foreseen at present, an additional period of several years will be required before the successful nation could produce a significant number of bombs (significant in the sense that they would provide an important military capability). These calculations lead us to two conclusions:

"(A) For a number of years, perhaps as many as eight to 15, only the U.S. will possess atomic bombs in significant quantities.

"(B) After the period mentioned in above other nations will possess atomic bombs in significant quantities.

"These conclusions are reached without considering the possibility of successfully completing satisfactory international control of atomic energy. If international control is achieved, the U.S. will presumably dispose of its bombs upon satisfactory implementation of the other provisions of the agreement which call for proper safeguards and the rights of inspection. It is apparent that a period or time will elapse before final disposition of the U.S. stockpile."

Search Continues For Missing Boy

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 (AP)—Lanterns and flashlights bobbed and winked in the treacherous Loch Lomond section near here tonight as searching parties began their third all-night search for missing four-year-old Jimmy Senser.

Powerful floodlights were rigged up on fire trucks to light the area and cans of steaming coffee and piles of sandwiches were made ready for the lonely vigil.

Little Jimmy was last seen Sunday while playing with his brother and sister near their home at Loch Lomond.

Close to a thousand searchers combed the area again today and were assisted by low flying planes, though all but a few held little hope that the child is still alive.

Pumpers of fire companies from nearby towns continued their grim task of draining the water from abandoned coal mining pits in the area in the chance that one may yield up the body of the missing child.

A pair of discarded red trunks, found on a railroad track about 500 yards from his home, and several footprints of his bare feet in the

Schwellenbach and Warren Ask Senators To Prevent Appropriations Reduction

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach and Conciliation Director Edgar L. Warren interrupted their attempts to settle the telephone strike today to plead with senators for funds refused them by the House.

Schwellenbach testified that House action in directing him to fire Warren is a grab for power which the Constitution denies Congress.

The Cabinet members, who also has served in the other two branches of Government as a senator and Federal judge, appeared before a Senate appropriations subcommittee.

"I believe the House, by attempting to direct me whom I shall hire and fire in the execution of my duties of conciliation and mediation, is attempting to exercise an executive function," Schwellenbach said.

Schwellenbach said the House reductions, to $18,136,200 from the $31,850,700 asked by President Truman are particularly untimely. He said the department "is faced with one of the most complicated and difficult problems in our domestic economy," although it is the "smallest executive department" with 7,227 employees.

Schwellenbach appeared after Warren denied to the senators that he is Communist-tainted or ever has advocated the right of Government employees to strike.

Schwellenbach and Warren both said the $588,400 House cut in the conciliation service funds would reduce the government's ability to prevent or end strikes.

If the House cuts go through, Schwellenbach said, the effect will be to cut off "services vital to the maintenance of a stabilized economy." The money is for the year beginning July 1.

Warren frankly acknowledged that he held membership for a few months in two organizations "designated as Communist fronts" before resigning, but vigorously denied he ever had "advocated the right of Government employees to strike."

The House appropriations committee said that Warren several years ago advocated the right of Federal employees to strike but later changed his mind.

Chairman Knowland (R-Calif.), of the Senate group, noted that anyone might "not advocate" but still could "believe" in the right of workers to strike against the Government.

"I certainly do not," the prematurely gray-haired official replied quickly.

"At no time did I feel that Government workers had a right to strike against the sovereign power," Warren added later.

Regarding the organization memberships to which the House appropriations committee objected, Warren testified:

"I was a member of the American League for Peace and Democracy and of the Washington Bookshop for a few months in 1938. I withdrew from both of those organizations in 1939. I have been in the Federal service for more than 13 years. No one (who) has been associated with me or with whom I have dealt as a Government representative has ever raised any question as to my loyalty."

Warren said he reorganized the service with emphasis upon decentralization and that both the Senate and House gave approval the past year. Now he said the House proposes to oust him for the reorganization.

School Board Unable To Satisfy Strikers
LEWISTOWN, April 9 (AP)—The Derry Township school board reported tonight after a meeting that it had discovered "no visible means" of ending the township's one-day-old teacher strike.

"We have nothing new to offer to the teachers," said Alvin Miller, board president, at the conclusion of the meeting. "As far as we are concerned, there is no change in the situation."

Gerald Woomer, president of the Derry Township Teachers association, an unaffiliated group, said the strike was called "as a protest over failure of the school board to provide a $300 salary adjustment for the 1946-47 school term."

Over 1200 students enrolled in the township schools are affected by the shutdown.

PIRATES MEET ROYERSFORD IN OPENER TODAY

Johnny Neborak Gets Starting Assignment For Spring City Nine

Once again Spring City High and Royersford High will meet on an athletic field.

This afternoon on the Spring City baseball diamond, the two schools will put on another exhibition which is expected to draw a large crowd. Spring City and Royersford known to many as the Twin Boroughs have always put on good showings in sports and today fans will get their last chance to see these two schools meet this year.

Johnny Neborak has been given the starting pitching assignment for Spring City while the Royersford starting hurler has not been named as yet. Should Neborak get in a little trouble today, Dick Mull will be on hand to relieve him. Coach Charles Wise has been putting the Pirates through stiff workouts during the past few weeks and thinks his team is ready for the Eagles today.

Coach Gene Kauler a newcomer to Royersford has also been putting his squad through tough practices preparing for this contest but Kauler has not as yet named his starting nine.

For Spring City Nelson Hulvey will be behind the plate ready to catch the offerings of Neborak. At first base will be Dick McKissic, a boy everyone in Spring City should know by this time. Jim Taylor will cover the ground at second base and will team up with Dick Mull at shortstop. Willie choice for the hot corner is Dick Fredrick. In the outfield, Bob Iselt will be in left with Jay Barclay ready to scout around in center. In right field and ready to take care of any balls hit off the bat of the left-handers, will be either Tom Ross or Russ Schantz.

$2000 Fine—Yanks and Dodgers

Larry MacPhail, president of the New York Yankees, and Branch Rickey, right, head man of the Brooklyn Dodgers have each had their clubs fined $2000 by Commissioner Happy Chandler for action detrimental to the welfare of baseball. It was MacPhail who filed charges against Rickey and Leo Durocher which finally lead to Durocher's one year suspension from baseball.

THIS and THAT

BY BOB RIEGNER

Having run a small note in this column yesterday about a meeting to form a softball league for youngsters up to 16 years of age, we naturally were interested in the outcome.

We gave Francis Donnon, Recreation Director, a call for the results of the meeting. To say, the least, we found a rather dejected Donnon at the other end of the wire.

"How was the meeting?" we asked. "I'm afraid it wasn't very good," Donnon replied. We inquired as to whom attended the little get-together. "Well," he said "there was Jack Scheffey (Transfiguration), Dick Ricketts and Francis Donnon."

Having come to the rather abrupt conclusion that it couldn't have been much of a meeting, we attempted to console him. Much to our surprise, we found that Donnon was not as much discouraged as we had previously believed.

"I didn't actually expect to have a good answer to the call. I've got to get busy and send out cards to the different churches if we want to get this thing started."

Another meeting will be called in two weeks and Donnon have expressed a belief that the response will be greater than last night's turnout.

A firm believer that idle hands for a youngster are not desirable, Donnon is attempting to keep the "kids" busy this Summer. He figures that a hard ball league would be a little to advanced for the youngsters and thus has decided on a softball league.

Donnon wants to extend the grade school and the junior high school basketball leagues into the baseball season. Both of those leagues were sponsored by the Recreation Commission. The Pee Wee league was for the fifth and sixth grade youngsters while the junior high league catered to the seventh, eighth and ninth grade boys.

If the league does become a league, the recreational program as far as baseball goes will be pretty well set. There will be a softball league for the men and also the City Industrial Baseball League. There will also probably be a Sunday School league.

NOT 'SOFT' ANYMORE

Chandler Throws Blockbuster; Shows 'Em Who Is the Head Man

By The Associated Press
COMMISSIONER A. B. (Happy) Chandler, whose critics had accused him of being too "soft," shook the baseball world to its heels yesterday when he socked a suspension for the 1947 season on Manager Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, fined the Dodgers and New York Yankees each $2000 and suspended coach Charles (Chuck) Dressen of the Yankees for one month.

In putting a finish to the inter-club quarrel which blighted the recent training season, the former Kentucky politician tossed a haymaker to equal anything ever thrown by his late revered predecessor, Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis. After two years in office, he finally established himself as the man with the whisksers.

Not only did Chandler detach Durocher from the highest paid managerial job in the game ($70,000 a year) and give everyone concerned in the quarrel a sharp dressing-down, but he concluded by demanding that they keep very silent from here on. Not even Landis ever placed an embargo on sound.

Durocher, penalized by the commissioner because he "has not measured up to the standards expected of required managers of our baseball teams" was as stunned as a man hit over the head with a mallet.

In the Brooklyn club office where he had been attending an important meeting to decide the fate of the club's Negro infielder, Jackie Robinson, Leo said over and over "What for? What for?" He said, dispiritedly, that he didn't know what he would do.

President Branch Rickey of the Dodgers who has stuck loyally with Leo through the ebullient pilot's frequent troubles, declined immediately to name a successor for the coming season. He ruled out Dave Walker, the club's popular outfielder, however, leaving his choice almost certainly between coach Ray Blades and Pepper Martin, a Dodger scout.

Dressen, who jumped the Brooklyn staff to become a Yankee coach this year, was suspended because Chandler said he was convinced he had broken an oral agreement with Rickey to remain with the Dodgers two more years.

The two clubs were plastered with $2000 fines "because their officials engaged in a public controversy damaging to baseball."

"Such controversies as these are under Durocher's name in the Brooklyn Eagle to which President Larry MacPhail of the Yankees took vigorous objection, was fined $500 and ordered to cease his literary efforts at once.

Chandler cleared MacPhail of having had two well-known gamblers as his guests at a game in Havana; this Spring as was charged by Rickey and Durocher.

He disclosed that both Dodger officials admitted during the recent hearings at Sarasota and St. Petersburg that they "had denied saying 'apparently there are rules for Durocher and other rules for the rest of baseball.'"

It turned out, as previously suspected, that Rickey made a rather handsome apology to MacPhail at the St. Petersburg hearing, and that it was accepted by the Yankee chief. MacPhail declined to say anything about Chandler's decision, but called a press conference for today.

Other baseball leaders over the broad land shed like colts when asked to comment. The consensus of their replies was that they didn't know anything about nothing and would prefer not to be quoted even to that extent.

They had been chilled somewhat by Chandler's paring shot. "Clubowners, managers, players and all others connected with baseball have been heretofore warned that association with known and notorious gamblers will not be tolerated and that swift disciplinary action will be taken against any person violating the order."

"All parties to the controversy are silenced from the time this order is issued."

Chandler signed his blockbuster "respectfully" but he didn't fool anybody. The boys, for the first time in two years, knew who they'd have to show their report cards to in the future.

PRACTICE TONIGHT
The Norco Aces will practice tonight at 6 o'clock on the North Coventry High school field.

American Loop Pass Presented to Truman

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—President Truman, in high good humor, received today his annual American league baseball pass.

The southpaw Chief Executive, who is expected to throw the first ball at Washington's opening game against the New York Yankees Monday, also got a wallet to put the duct in.

But the President confided to reporters and photographers in a ceremony on the porch outside his executive office that Mrs. Truman "got the best of it."

CHANDLER SUSPENDS LEO DUROCHER FOR A YEAR

Given Suspensions

LEO DUROCHER

Leo Durocher, fiery manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been suspended for one year by Commissioner Happy Chandler for a number of unpleasant incidents which occurred during his battle with Larry MacPhail, president of the New York Yankees. Charley Drensen was suspended for 30 days beginning April 14, for breaking an oral contract with president Branch Rickey of the Dodgers.

Most of Major Loop Teams To Begin Contests Earlier

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP) — The customers at major league baseball games will be coming home to early dinners this Summer — at least while the teams are playing in the daytime.

With four clubs — the two Chicago teams, Cleveland and Pittsburgh — beginning their games at 1:30 p. m., no less than 10 of the 16 big league teams will be starting at an earlier time than ever before.

The two Boston clubs have announced they will begin their weekday games at 2 p. m., the same time the New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers will get their contests under way. Each of these clubs started at 2:30 last year.

The Athletics and Phillies of Philadelphia have moved up their starting time from 3:15 to 2:30 p. m., which will also be the starting time of the two St. Louis clubs, Cincinnati and the New York Giants. Washington and Detroit will be the latest to start. The cry of "Play ball" won't be heard in those cities until 2 p. m.

All night games will begin at 8:30 p. m. except in Philadelphia and in the parks of the Giants and Cardinals. The A's will start after dark contests at 9:00 p. m., the others a quarter of an hour earlier.

Detroit, only team without lights in its park, has scheduled seven twilight games, which will start at 5:30 p. m.

Weekday doubleheaders will begin at 1:30 in every park, with the exception of the two New York clubs, the Cardinals and Pirates. All Sunday doubleheaders will start at 1:30. The Yankees and Giants will begin at 2:05 and the Cards and Pirates at 2:00 sharp. Brooklyn has no Sunday twin bills scheduled.

Sukeforth to Manage Bums in Exhibition

BROOKLYN, April 9 (AP) — Clyde Sukeforth, Brooklyn coach, tonight was named to manage the Dodgers in their exhibition game with the Montreal Royals at Ebbets field tomorrow. For this game, only, Sukeforth, a former big league catcher, scout and minor league pilot, will fill in the spot left open by the suspension of Leo Durocher for the 1947 season.

The announcement of Sukeforth's appointment for the day was made by Arthur Mann, assistant to club president Branch Rickey.

Rickey Is Faced With Problem Of Selecting New Dodger Pilot For Tuesday's Opening Contest

CINCINNATI, April 9 (AP) — Leo (The Lip) Durocher, one of baseball's most explosive characters since he became manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers eight years ago, today was suspended for the 1947 season by Commissioner A. B. Chandler.

"Durocher has not measured up to the standards expected or required of managers of our baseball teams," Chandler said.

The suspension of the belligerent Leo, who left a shortstop's job to become baseball's highest paid manager — an estimated $70,000 a year — was the result of the accumulation of unpleasant incidents in which he has been involved," Chandler said.

It was Chandler in new character today — a determined, punch throwing commissioner who said in the same report that the people in baseball will not be permitted to associate "with known and notorious gamblers" and that "swift disciplinary action will be taken against any person violating the order."

He said they "have been hitherto warned" against such association.

Chandler exonerated Larry MacPhail, president of the New York Yankees, from any association with known gamblers, and also said he was convinced that Branch Rickey, head of the Brooklyn club, had not made any statements which might be construed as detrimental to MacPhail's character and integrity.

He said, however, both Rickey and Durocher had admitted making some statements regarding MacPhail's guests at a Havana game.

It was those statements, along with others made in a newspaper column under Durocher's name that led to hearings in Florida recently and to Chandler's decision today.

MacPhail brought the case to a head by filing charges of defamation against Durocher and Rickey.

Durocher in the newspaper column criticized MacPhail as trying "to knock me" after, he said, he declined to become manager of the Yankees.

Chandler said today he was convinced MacPhail never had offered the job to Durocher.

But, "because their officials engaged in a public controversy damaging to baseball, the New York American league club and the Brooklyn club are hereby fined $2000 each," he added.

In New York Rickey said he had a new manager in mind but could not give his name at this time. Answering a question, he said it would not be Dixie Walker, veteran right field star and slugger.

There was some talk that either Ray Blades or Pepper Martin might be chosen.

In other actions today Chandler fined Harold Parrott, traveling secretary for the Brooklyn team, $500 for "writing a deliberately derogatory" newspaper article about people in baseball. Parrott was "ghost" writer for Durocher in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle.

He suspended Chuck Drensen, former Dodger coach, for 30 days beginning April 14, because he allegedly broke a verbal contract with Brooklyn to join the Yankees this year.

With the suspension of Leo Durocher, two former St. Louis Cardinals have been named as possible candidates for the job of manager of the Dodgers. Pepper Martin, above, is now a Dodger scout while Ray Blades, lower photo, is at present a Brooklyn coach.

Suspended Tennis Champ Is Undecided About Future

PARIS, April 9 (AP) — Pauline Betz, barred from amateur tennis by the game's ruling body in the United States, arrived here from Monte Carlo today and, while still undecided about future plans, declared the suspension "Sort of nudges me toward professionalism."

"I don't want to sit in a corner," said the feminine turf court champion of the United States and England, here for a few days before starting a vacation in Switzerland. "I want to play tennis. If I can't play amateur tennis then I'll play professional tennis."

"But I cannot say now either that I will remain an amateur or will turn professional."

She said the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association had not notified her directly of its action yesterday in suspending her and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Cooke of New York for planning an exhibition tour under the sponsorship of the latter's husband, Elwood Cooke.

She acknowledged that she had received a telegram last week saying her tour expense money was to be cut off while the association "investigated" reports of the projected tour.

Miss Betz said Cooke asked her whether she would make a professional tour with Mrs. Cooke. Her answer, she said, was: "Maybe—how much would there be in it?"

As a result of that, she said, she received a telegram from the USLTA telling her that it had talked with Cooke about her "negotiations" and asking her to confirm them.

"I didn't answer that," she said. "I was not sure what they considered were negotiations, and if they had talked to Cooke, they had the story relating to my side of it."

"Then another telegram came, saying that my amateur expense money was to be cut off."

Tennis Championships To Be Held June 23

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP) — The World Professional Grass Court Tennis championships will be held at Forest Hills, June 23-29, it was announced today by Tony Owen, president of the World Professional Tennis League.

Owen, who arrived here from California for a series of meetings with officers and directors of the newly-formed league, also announced plans for pro tournaments at Buffalo, April 20-22; Rochester, April 24-27, and Troy, N. Y., May 1-3.

Cabinet Not Set For Federal Action To Halt Price Rises

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—A special Cabinet meeting on inflation today produced this single definite policy statement: the Administration has no present plans for Federal intervention to curb rising prices.

Otherwise the unusual mid-week session was a mystery. Cabinet officers were silent and smiling at its close and presidential press secretary, Charles G. Ross told reporters:

"It was just a lot of talk back and forth, pro and con."

A memorandum of four or five pages prepared by President Truman's council of economic advisors was read to the Cabinet members by Edwin G. Nourse, council chairman. Nourse yesterday reported on the price climb to Mr. Truman and described the problem as "serious."

The session was held against the background of a coast to coast telephone strike, a "safety" stoppage of work in many soft coal mines, flagging wage negotiations in steel, and wholesale prices at a record high since 1920.

Ross told reporters that the meeting was a general review of the economic situation, that Mr. Truman "did a lot of listening," and that Cabinet officers gave their own views when Nourse had finished.

Then he cut off a fusillade of questions from reporters with this statement:

"No action was taken and no action was planned. I won't say any more about it."

Thus far the Government has contented itself with pleas for voluntary examination of the price structure and reductions where possible, together with appeals for moderation in union wage demands.

Prior to the Cabinet session, Nourse told a reporter that "wage uncertainty" is darkening the price outlook. The continued rise in prices has contributed to new wage demands, he said, and these in turn have made businessmen hesitate about price cutting.
